AGLC Referencing
Internet Material

The details required in order include: Author(s) (if indicated on the webpage being cited); Document Title (in single quotation marks); Web Page Title (in italics); Document Type, Full Date (in parentheses); Pinpoint reference if applicable; URL (enclosed in < >). A source should be cited as internet material if it does not exist in a published form and/or there is no other AGLC rule that would apply.

Tips:

- Where the author and webpage title are the same, omit the author
- If the Document Type (eg Blog Post) is not obvious ‘Web Page’ should be used
- Where available the full date of the last update of the webpage should be included after the document name. If not available, the full date of creation should be included. Where there is not a full date, include as much as appears. Omit date if none is shown.
